ABOUT US

HVAC Distributors is a full-service wholesale distributor and manufacturers representative of residential and light commercial heating and air-conditioning equipment and accessories.

We serve the residential new construction, residential replacement and light commercial segments of the HVAC industry in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Northern Virginia and Western New York.

Commercial Solutions

HVAC Distributors is the supplier of choice for many of the large commercial HVAC contractors in Pennsylvania and we continue to grow our territory in the surrounding states. We have a team of Applications Engineers who provide consultation and design assistance for new construction and retrofit projects, as well as a separate Technical Service group who provide service and troubleshooting assistance on all of our product lines. We are heavily involved in the commercial multi-zone VRV, dedicated outside air system, and modern high efficiency hydronic system markets.

"While completing my college education I started an internship with HVAC and then was hired on full-time after graduation. Best decision I ever made."

- Tyler Ziegler,
Applications Engineer
